FY2021 Annual Report

July 1, 2020 to June 30, 2021

God's Provisions in Unexpected Ways

In their hearts humans plan their course, but the LORD establishes their steps.

Proverbs 16:9

Conventional wisdom teaches us that planning is important for success. Godly wisdom teaches that it is even better to follow up your planning with faith, to trust that God, as a wise, good and loving Father, plays an even more important crucial role in the final outcomes of even the best laid plans. Thankfully!

At Healing Waters International, not everything we planned for in FY2021 became reality. But we did see other things happen that we didn't plan or expect – some in ways more wonderful than what we could have ever imagined. We saw God's provision in unexpected ways.

We set an ambitious (or you may say crazy) goal to build 34 new community safe water projects in the middle of a pandemic and surprisingly were able to complete 33 – because the LORD established our steps and because we have an incredibly dedicated, talented, and hard-working field staff!

We didn't expect donors and partners to boost their generous giving during a pandemic by 8%, but they did – because the Lord established your steps and you have a passion to help alleviate suffering and injustice.

We made a plan to move and right-size our headquarters footprint to create a more collaborative team workspace. In an overheated real-estate market, God provided the perfect space in an unexpected way at a savings. So now, we can invest even more to bring safe water to more people who desperately need it.

Lastly, God's provision was evident in the overwhelming commitment, encouragement, and support that every member of our global team felt from all of you, our global Healing Waters Family. There were thousands of skilled volunteer hours donated to building, testing, and shipping water purification systems to Africa; family prayers and discussions about which water projects to support; and church leaders and congregations researching, discerning, and generously giving mission outreach funds. All this to bring safe water to communities and people across the globe that you will never know this side of heaven.

We planned again this year. In fact, we just completed our new 3-year strategic plan that we call our SOAP, Strategy on a Page. And we are asking you all to continue on this exciting journey with us by doing the same: make plans, lay them before the Lord, and pursue your plans from a position of faith, trusting that you will see in unexpected ways that the Lord does indeed establish our steps.

Thankful for God's Surprises,

FY21 Highlights

Mexico

During the pandemic, many in Mexico lost their sources of income while at the same time prices for basic commodities skyrocketed. This left many families even in developed urban areas of Mexico vulnerable and unable to afford basic necessities including water. Healing Waters Mexico responded to this by establishing a temporary water purification system for the first time at our office in Berriozabal, Chiapas. Every day for almost six months, over 100 families from our “hometown” of Berriozabal, most of whom had temporarily lost their jobs and were without income, came to get water in wheelbarrows and carts which helped them survive during the pandemic.

In Mexico, there were also significant national lockdowns and many communities became completely closed off from the outside world due to the COVID pandemic. During this time, our Mexico team innovated in using WhatsApp video calling and file sharing to connect remotely. This allowed us to remotely work with water site leaders and workers. It also helped us to keep the ongoing community-wide Health & Hygiene training happening in light of COVID. HWI Mexico staff were able to remotely troubleshoot equipment repairs to keep our church partners serving their communities through the pandemic. Then as national quarantine mandates began to loosen up in the second half of the fiscal year, our team was able to implement five new school-based community water projects in the high rainforest region of Chiapas; bringing our total count for this 3 to 5 year initiative from two pilot projects up to seven against a multi-year vision of 80 communities.

Every day for almost six months, over 100 families from our “hometown” of Berriozabal, most of whom had temporarily lost their jobs and were without income, came to get water in wheelbarrows and carts which helped them survive during the pandemic.

God has truly put a mantle of protection over our Haiti team. Though encounters with gangs, violent protests, barricades, fuel outages, and national lockdowns; God has protected us, covered us, guided us, and blessed us.

Haiti

FY2021 has marked the end of a three-year initiative to implement 16 safe water projects throughout the Les Cayes region, South Department, Haiti. Fifteen of these interventions were made possible through a partnership with Compassion International Haiti. This experience has significantly enriched the HWI technical team and the Health & Hygiene team. Innovative equipment solutions developed in collaboration with headquarters' engineers were successfully implemented and validated by our Haiti team. During the pandemic, our Haiti tech team was able to remotely troubleshoot equipment issues with site partners.

FY2021 portrays a Healing Waters Haiti team able and willing to literally “walk” the extra mile in order to bring safe water and Health and Hygiene training to villages and communities where even motorbikes cannot access. They have hiked into the mountains of Mont Sichem and waded across rivers to bring safe water to the people. They have scaled down into a deep ravine at Corail to pump water up to the children in the school and the members of the community. They have carried equipment over their shoulders to make safe water a reality for our brothers and sisters at Ile a Vache after reaching this island by dinghy. God has truly put a mantle of protection over our Haiti team. Though encounters with gangs, violent protests, barricades, fuel outages, and national lockdowns; God has protected us, covered us, guided us, and blessed us.

Guatemala

This year, in addition to implementing 19 new community water interventions, our Guatemala team also provided emergency response when Hurricanes Eta and Iota hit in the fall of 2020. We worked with several of our partners in communities with existing water projects to distribute water and other basic supplies to families that had been affected by the flooding, especially in Alta Verapaz. We distributed water jugs to shelters and organized distribution routes from the water system in Pueblo Modelo to serve additional communities that desperately needed safe water. Our team had to adjust our safe water operations due to the impact of the COVID pandemic. Our Health and Hygiene program trainings were also disrupted by COVID; however, we were able to innovate and use mobile communications such as WhatsApp to distribute important health information in multiple indigenous languages, including dispelling myths about COVID-19.

As our projects expand to remote villages of Guatemala, it's encouraging to hear from our local partners how Healing Waters' projects are impacting their health and their access to clean water. As a result, these villages are not going to be left behind. Txejoj in Huehuetenango is just one example of a community that is so grateful to have Healing Waters team come and provide health and hygiene education, because they haven't ever had anyone come to their village before to provide this important training. Our team lead the Health & Hygiene training there with both men and women in their native language of Mam. Both men and women graduated from this Health and Hygiene training program.

The Philanthropic Impact

Spotlight On Corporate and Foundation Giving

Corporate and private foundation partnerships have been instrumental in helping Healing Waters access the skills, funding, resources, and people needed to extend our reach and impact. In FY 2021, these powerful allies – through direct corporate giving programs and private foundation grants – accounted for 26% of all donor funding.

Collaboration with institutional partners helps fuel innovative strategies and alignment of investments – providing a powerful means to increase collective impact and engage a broader audience on the global water crisis. Through profit sharing, program sponsorship, in-kind donations, matching gifts, and capacity grants, public-private partnerships funded dozens of projects, sponsored training & education programs, subsidized in-country operations, and backed critical technology and infrastructure needed to support 494 project sites serving more than 355,000 individuals daily.

We are deeply grateful to our corporate and foundation partners for their generosity and commitment to bringing an end to the devastation that drinking unsafe water can bring.
